World Water Day is celebrated every year on 22nd of March by the people all across the world. The day focuses attention on the importance of universal access to clean water, sanitation and hygiene (WASH) facilities in developing countries. The day also focuses on advocating for the sustainable management of freshwater resources. Water is a limited resource. What each of us does in the world, how we live, does make a difference. As we learn the value of clean, safe water and how scarce it truly is, we can take steps to protect it and to get it to people who lack access today. So to spread awareness and take some action, National Service Scheme of Kamala Nehru College conducted a pledge ceremony, followed by a rally on 28th March 2018. The pledge consisted of taking an oath to conserve water judiciously. The volunteers, then, rallied around the college to aware students about World Water Day through posters and slogans. The National Service Scheme of Kamala Nehru College conducted a „Sanitation and hygiene awareness drive“ in the Begampur slum area on 8th-9th July 2018. Volunteers along with the teacher convener visited the slum and interacted with the residents, enquiring about the cleanliness of the locality and their awareness regarding hygiene practices. Questionnaires were administered to the residents, primarily pertaining to the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan and its overall effectiveness. The people reported that while good in theory and shows promise, it has not been carried out to its full potential and thus, has not been especially successful. While initially hesitant to speak against a government initiative, they gradually opened up and shared their daily hygiene woes, saying that despite personal effort and initiative, the officials responsible never carried out their responsibilities diligently and showed a lax and laid back attitude regarding routine cleaning and sanitation. Common complaints were waterlogged sewers, sewers overflowing, MCD dustbins not being cleared out regularly and mosquito breeding. It was also found that the government had not been successful in raising awareness regarding sanitary measures, such as the distinction between bio-degradable and non bio-degradable waste and the allotted dustbins for the same. In spite of government callousness, the residents are very efficient by themselves and take care of their own. Majority of the residents throw their domestic waste in a dustbin by the house and dispose it off of in the MCD dustbin outside their slum. Shopkeepers also take measures to not have people litter their surroundings after buying from them. But despite taking such measures, toilets are a problem for some people. Personal toilets are available only to the people who had the space to construct the same. Smaller plots usually don't lend themselves to such construction and hence, those people continue to use public restrooms.

Even though the people of Begampur village live in poverty and have very limited resource, they are highly responsive and are very willing to work towards a better community for themselves, and while help would be appreciated, they are capable of taking matters into their own hands and creating a cleaner environment only if resources are provided to them. The

'BREAKUP' WITH PLASTIC

"He eats plastic food with a plastic knife and fork"

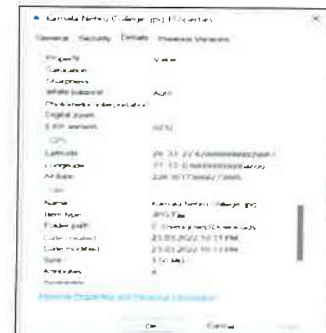

From toothbrush, shavers, soap case, bathtubs, hairbrush to chair, mats, toys, CD, clock to water bottle, tiffin, plate, cups, cans to plastic bags, gadgets, machines etc;
 Human in twenty first century is surrounded by plastic throughout the day and can't imagine a single day without it.

Meaning and definition of PLASTIC
 The scientific definition of plastic is – a material which is composed of various elements like carbon, hydrogen, oxygen etc. having high molecular weight, which signifies that each molecule can have thousands of atoms bound together.
 Simply plastic is a material made of variety of synthetic or semi-synthetic material that is malleable enough to be moulded into solid objects.

History of PLASTIC and how it is made
 Alexander Parkes was a metallurgist and an inventor from England, he created first man-made plastic called Parkesine. Plastics are derived from materials that are found in nature and mostly they are based on carbon atom. eg- natural gas, oil, coal, minerals and plants. The common process involves combination of petroleum distillates with specific catalysts to create novel and typically larger molecules.
