

Activities 2017

The Consumidor 2018 was hosted by the Consumer Club of Kamala Nehru College on February 1st 2018 club that strives towards building a society of enlightened and aware consumers. The day began with the inaugural address by the Chief Guest Prof Suresh Misra, Director, Centre for Consumer Studies, IIPA. He was welcomed by the college Principal, Dr. Kalpana Bhakuni, Dr Sheetal Kapoor (Teacher Convenor) and Student President Sonika Trehon. The traditional lighting of the lamp was followed by a spectacular Saraswati Vandana performance, as well as the launch of the Annual Club magazine "AWAKEN".

After the Inaugural 'nukkadnatak', was held in Chaupalin which 13 colleges performed beautiful and empowering plays on various social issues. The event was judged by Dr. Sapna Chadah from IIPA and Mr. Rajnish Kumar. Shri Ram College of Commerce emerged victorious, followed closely by College of Vocational Studies. The third position was bagged by the team from Deshbandhu college. The next event was Debate, which too, was meticulously organised. The topic for the debate competition was "Is a Developing Nation like India ready to be a Digital Economy" in which, students from the entire Delhi University actively participated. The first position was bagged by Ramjas College, which was followed by Shyam Lal College and Shivaji college as second and third prize respectively. The award for the best interjector was given to Bhim Rao Ambedkar College. In the event Best out of waste participants created beautiful objects out of recyclable material. The first and second position was bagged by Kamala Nehru College followed by Sri Venkateshwara college as the 3rd position. Further, the Ad-mad competition organized by the club was a great success. Various teams took part in the event, in which, they had to guess tag lines of famous brands and act out their ideas creatively. The first and Second position was bagged by Kamala Nehru College and the third position by Faculty of Arts. All in all, the Consumidor 2018 was a tremendous success with huge participation from various colleges.