Created in 2002 with a vision to bring about change and question the existing stereotypes of our society through the quintessential medium of theatre, Lakshya - The Theatre Society of Kamala Nehru College has stood up to its motto of generating awareness and continues to do so. During the last year, Lakshya successfully organised Concoction '17 - a two day long theatre festival witnessing a footfall of around 2,500-3,000 people over the two days of the festival.

The street production Aiin depicts the current scenario of the country. This play talks about a group of students who realize that there are so many unwritten, yet obvious limitations to their right to express themselves. It is an attempt to represent the leakages of various parts of the system in the country and how majoritarian politics plays a huge role in shaping our social dynamics. The attempt is not to point fingers but to understand the contemporary problems from the eyes of the younger generation.

Following is the list of performances and achievements of Lakshya with this production: Janki Devi Memorial College, Maharaja Surajmal Institute of Technology, ZHDC(E), PGDAV (Morning), National School of Drama, SGTB KHALSA, Leaders for Tomorrow- Public Performance, V4V – Public Performance, MANTHAN – Public Performance, and Hansraj College where Aditi Gupta got the best performer award.

The stage production Convuluted, a psychological thriller written and directed by Bipasha Talukdar is about a maze of the protagonist's imagination. Delivering completely different aspects to the audience and hiding behind the shield of confusion, she puts those around her in doubt. This production won the team critical acclaim at: Saitan Theatre Festival- AksharaTheatre, Deshbandhu College- Third Position, and Maulana Azad Medical College.

Lakshya prepared a special stage play in order to create awareness about the Indian culture and the movements led by our leaders and hosted a special performance for the Gandhi Study Circle. Lakshya also had a special performance for BetiBachaoBetiPadhao, - a social campaign of Government of India that aims to generate awareness and improve the efficiency of welfare services intended for girls. Lakshya prepared a special stage play in order to create awareness and contribute towards our country's welfare.
