

Report 2010-11

Faculty Convener: Dr. Shikha Prakash

The fine arts society has been finally christened as "Luminoso".

The year 2010-11, has been really eventful for the fine arts society. The most important aspect was to design and make the backdrop sets, as well as costumes for the college play "Chitrangada". The main backdrop was hand painted all the way and the props used during the play were all hand crafted. The fine arts society as every year did the decoration work for the college festival "Ullas". Also for the college farewell the students made beautiful painted glass vases for the graduating students. Our students won many prizes at the inter and intra college level competitions. In the coming year we plan to do a huge collage on the college walls.

The fine arts society of Kamala Nehru college takes care of all art and aesthetics related activities. We organise workshops and guest lectures to inform and teach students about different art forms. We also have inter college competitions. Over the last few years this society has been solely taking care of all college decorations not only during the college festival but also for other activities as well. It is a great opportunity for students to come and share their skills as well as learn new things.
