

Report: 2011-2012

BERTHOLD AUERBACH has correctly said that:

“Music washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life”

Keeping this in mind, Sangeetika, the Indian Music Society is a small effort on behalf of Kamala Nehru College to keep the cultural heritage intact and moreover provide a platform to all those students who along with the academic engagements try to spare some time for learning and practicing Indian Classical music including both Hindustani Classical and Carnatic music. Sangeetika is one of the societies which remains active throughout the year and being open to experiment, the society not only participates but also helps in organizing and coordinating various activities of the college.

The society takes pride in participating in festivals organized by the various colleges of Delhi University. The beginning of new academic session in July 2011 was marked by a small performance by the society on Orientation Day to give a small insight to the fresher's about the society.

The appreciation of efforts for the dance drama, 'CHITRANGADA', gave the society a golden opportunity to perform again in front of a larger audience at the prestigious India International Centre on 8th August 2011. This was followed by Independence Day celebrations on 12th August 2011, which was followed by another performance of CHITRANGADA on 3rd November 2011 for the general public at Shankar Lal Hall, Delhi University (North Campus). The month of August and September had been very crucial and eventful for the society

The month of January saw the Republic Day celebrations.

The month of February was marked by celebration of college festival, where Sangeetika organized 'Swaranjali', the annual inter college music competition during college festival ULLAS held on 1st and 2nd February 2012 with categories of semi classical and light songs for group and solo competition respectively.
